

Road Accidents and Safety Report For The Year 2015 To 2017 (For 20 -- 40 years olds)

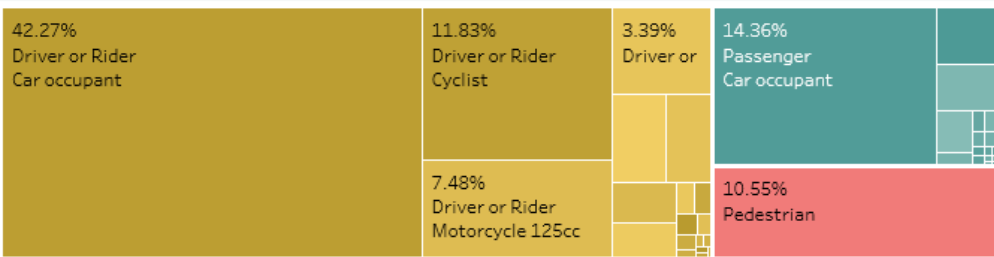

Numbers of Records by Ages and Years

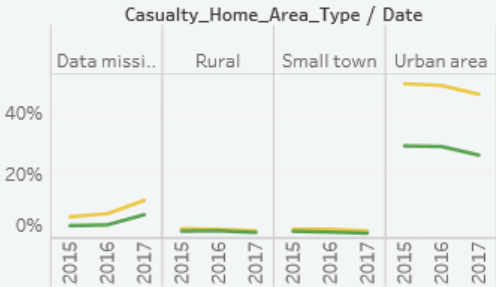

Number of records by the casualty class and years

Number of records by the casualty class and type

Number of records by the area and years

Conclusion:

1. From 2015 to 2017, the recorded accidents in the UK are decreasing.
2. Within the year, the number of road accidents in the UK has tended to be higher at the end of the year than at the beginning, especially for casualties between the ages of 20 and 40.
3. For people who aged 20 to 40, the fatal and serious accidents are increasing over years. The numbers of slight accidents decreased from 87.17% in 2015 to 84.43% in 2017.
4. Males are more likely hurt in accidents than females.
5. The car drivers are the main type of casualties, more than 50% people injured. Pedestrian and car passengers only takes less than 1/3 of all.

Numbers of Records by Region

